Satire, Impressionism Characterize Initial Theatre Guild Production

Josef and Karl Kapek's fantasy opened Wednesday night in Main auditorium. This, the first presentation of the Theater Guild this year, will continue tonight and Saturday at 8:20 p.m. Under the direction of Dr. Harold Hayes the Theater Guild has undertaken the production of experimental theater.

Existing entirely within the tormented mind of a vagabond drunk, "Life of the Insects" portrays the characteristics and weaknesses of the human race by exaggerating the faults as developed in various insects.

Beetles satirize man's preoccupation with the material things of the world and his willingness to advance himself by capitalizing on the misfortunes of others. The beetles' value of a pile of manure is compared to that which a man has toward a pile of gold. This is the satire on human greed: Often man does not want to enjoy, he wants only to possess; all values are distorted by materialism, and man evaluates his contemporaries according to his own standards and values.

The butterflies represent the passions of man, while ants signify the communistic tendencies of our society, where every man is subjected to the will and the good of the whole.

The philosophies of Josef and Karl Kapek, the playwrights, emerges in lines such as, "The egotist should not love so much, not hate so much, nor begrudge others their small share of space," and "One desires to perpetuate one's own insignificance in one's own species."

Franklin Johnson Recipient Of Major Labor Union Award

Northern Minnesota's largest labor union, the 3,000-member United Steel Workers local 1028 (CIO) of Duluth, has announced selection of the winner of the 1953 scholarship of $250 under an annual award program for UMD students.

The scholarship program, set up last spring, is one of two established by Duluth labor groups to help deserving students complete college work.

Campus, City Impress New Business Instructor

"I'm impressed not only with the school but with the city of Duluth as a whole because of its consideration of the individual regardless of numbers," says Evelyn L. Grovom, UMD's new instructor in secretarial science and business education.

Miss Grovom is a graduate of the Myville, North Dakota, State Teachers college, where she majored in business and English. After teaching business courses in various North Dakota and Minnesota high schools, she entered the school of business administration at the main campus to take her master's degree.

Among the professional societies to which she belongs is Delta Pi Epsilon, an honorary graduate fraternity in business education.

UMD is quite a change from Bemidji State Teachers college, where Miss Grovom taught last year. Bemidji has a student enrollment of 500 compared to UMD's 1,400. On campus Miss Grovom is adviser to the LSA club.

A. L. Overton, local 1028 president, announced that the 1953 recipient is Franklin L. Johnson, Duluth, a sophomore taking a pre-medical course. Johnson is a 1952 Central graduate.

Dr. Raymond W. Darland, UMD provost, commented on the first scholarship award by the USW local:

"It would be difficult to find a more worthwhile project than this to help deserving youth develop their talents and abilities in college. We cannot estimate the eventual benefits not only to the student himself, but also to a society which conceivably can reap good from his efforts. The example set by this and other scholarships in northern Minnesota could well be a pattern for many other organizations to follow."

Last week, Carl Swenson, president of the Duluth Federated Trades and Labor assembly, AFL central body representing more than 10,000 workers, announced award of another $250 scholarship to Marilyn Soderberg, a UMD music major from Proctor.

The chest X-ray Mobile Unit will be on campus soon. Students are reminded that a tuberculosis chest X-ray is required of all students annually. The dates that the unit will be at UMD are Nov. 18, New Campus, Nov. 19 and 20, Main building.

Humanist Gains Editorial Board

Last week, UMD's literary quarterly, the HUMANIST underwent an extensive reorganization of editorial positions in order to widen the scope of the publication. The quarterly, initiated last year for the purpose of stimulating creative thoughts and activity, contains short novelettes, plays, book reviews, stories, poetry, light verse, essays, sketches and photography.

Originality of content and style will be considered in the selection of material for publication. Selection will be made by an editorial board, assisted by an advisory board of faculty members.

The deadline for material to appear in the fall issue is November 16. Contributions may be left at the Humanist office, Room 304, Washburn hall.

The students present at the meeting voted to abolish the position of editor-in-chief and to institute an editorial board consisting of from twelve to twenty students. The tentative staff chosen includes Carl Braafladt, Enid Hagen, Lois Raati, Karl Kasberg, Donna Cathcart, Ralph Miller, Dale Hagen, Jean Holmstrand, Dick Heim, Dave Wood, John McEldowney, Mary Nichols, Jackie Mindlin, John Hull and Becky Thomason.

The advisory board is headed by Mr. Rosenthal and includes Dr. Friar, Dr. Sturgeon, Dr. Tozer, Mr. Wood, Dr. Miller and Dr. Hayes.

Darland Appoints Committee To Study Cafeteria Problem

The cafeteria problem has received new action this week that is hoped will hasten a suitable solution which will provide maximum benefits for all.

In a letter to the Student Council Tuesday night, Dr. Darland acknowledged receipt of the Student Welfare commission report and recommendations and announced appointment of this committee charged with "the early consideration of problems relating to the operation of the cafeteria."

The new 14-man committee is represented by students, administration and faculty. Robert Falk is chairman with Gerald Cook representing the Student Council; Grant Merritt, the junior class; Beth Stewart, Torrance Hall; Dick Gay, Student Welfare commission; and Dale Olsen the Student Center committee.

Miss Mary Elwell, Miss Harriet Harrison, Dr. Chester Wood, Mr. Earl Hobe, Mr. Frank Hanson, Dr. Art Smith, Dr. Robert Heller and Dr. Wendell Glick make up the rest of the committee.

These persons were requested to serve for the remainder of the 1953-54 academic year. The function of the committee is to consider non-academic matters concerning students and report recommendations to the provost. The committee is advised to keep in close communication with the Student Council, to give due consideration to student organizations, student service center suage, etc.

Dr. Darland further stated in his letter, "apparently there are no simple answers to these problems (cafeteria). Had there been, I am certain someone would have come up with them before now and would not be

Robert J. Falk, chairman of the Special Committee on Student Affairs, announced that the committee will hold its first meeting at 3:15 p.m., Friday, Nov. 6. The purpose of the meeting will be to consider proposals and suggestions concerning the cafeteria.

facing problems which have been of concern off and on during the past six years."

"I have asked Mr. Hobe," Dr. Darland wrote, "to furnish the committee with a complete analysis of the operation and point out some of the adjustments which have been made this past week and other changes being planned."

UMD Orchestra Begins Season Performances November 10

UMD's 38-piece orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Addison Alspach, will begin its season of performances with a program of descriptive and romantic music at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 10, in Main auditorium.

Featured is Mendelssohn's overture "Fingel's Cave," in which the composer captures the beauty of the Staffa caves in Scotland.

Included in the Grieg selections are "Morning Mood," "Ase's Death," "Anitra's Dance" and "In the Hall of the Mountain King," from the Peer Gynt Suite.

The prelude to the third act of Wagner's "Lohengrin" will precede a suite by William Bergsma, which has as its subject the Paul Bunyan saga. The work, written by the contemporary American composer at the age of 17 includes "The Dance of the Blue Ox," "Country Dance" and a finale combining "Night" and "Paul's Work Completed."

The program is open to the public; no admission is charged.

Foundation Announces Fellowships

The National Science Foundation has recently announced that it plans to award approximately 750 graduate and post-doctoral fellowships for study in the sciences for the 1954-1955 academic year. These fellowships which are open only to citizens of the United States will be awarded solely on the basis of ability. They are offered in the mathematical, physical, medical, biological and engineering sciences, including physical anthropology, psychology (excluding clinical psychology), physical geography and interdisciplinary fields.

Students studying for either their master's or doctoral degrees are eligible for graduate fellowships at the first year, intermediate or terminal year levels of graduate study. College seniors majoring in the sciences and who expect to receive a baccalaureate degree during the 1953-1954 academic year are encouraged to apply for the awards.

The selection of predoctoral Fellows will be based on test scores of scientific aptitude and achievement, academic records, and recommendations regarding each candidate's abilities. Post-doctoral applicants will not be required to take the examinations. The evaluation of each candidate's qualifications will be made by panels of scientists chosen by the National Academy of Sciences. The final selection of Fellows will be made by the National Science Foundation.

The annual stipends for graduate Fellows range from $1,400 to $1,800; the stipend for post-doctoral Fellows is $3,400. In addition to providing limited allowances for dependents and travel, tuition and certain required fees will be paid by the Foundation. The tenure of a fellowship is for one year and can be arranged to begin at any time after June 1, 1954, but normally must not be later than the beginning of the 1954-1955 academic year at the institution of the Fellow's choice.

In order to be considered for the 1954-1955 academic year, postdoctoral applications must be received in the Fellowship Office of the National Research Council by December 15, 1953, and graduate applications by January 4, 1954.

Detailed information and application forms may be secured from the Fellowship Office, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, N. W., Washington 25, D. C.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

"Ya shoulda seen th' look on th' dean's face when Floyd started playin' his piccolo."

Your Business by Pat McDonnell

The cafeteria situation was the topic of most interest at the third Student Council meeting, Oct. 27. Dick Gay presented his findings and recommendations to the Council (similar to his statements in the Oct. 30 STATESMAN). After some discussion the report was adopted and the recommendations sent to Dr. Darland for action.

Jerry Cross reported that he has had success in getting the date of the Marriage Ball changed to a more convenient time for out-of-town students. The Engineering fraternity has agreed to hold the affair the Friday before Thanksgiving.

Denfeld High School has requested UMD's support in obtaining a stop light for the corner of 44th Ave. W. and Grand Avenue. This congested area is the spot where a Duluth teen-ager lost his life a short time ago. Dennis LaRoque, athletic commissioner, has sent a letter to Governor Anderson stating the necessity of a traffic control device especially after athletic events.

Another letter requesting UMD's help (from a leper colony in Ohio) was turned over to Congress of Student Organizations to be made available to campus groups that would be interested in giving this establishment financial aid.

Dale Olson reported that a Student Center Advisory committee would be appointed shortly. The function of this committee will be purchasing furnishings, conduct student union government and supervise the union. This will be primarily a student committee. Dale also announced a meeting dealing with student unions to be held in Winnipeg. It was decided that the Council would finance three students to take in the meeting. Transportation will be furnished by OSPS. It was further decided that of the three students only one would be a senior, (Dale Olson, chairman of the union committee); one from the committee and the freshman class president.

Student Organizations, represented by Nancy Schroeder, told the Council that the site for their retreat has been set as the Northeast Experimental station, outside of Duluth. A definite date has not been chosen yet, but it will be announced to club presidents as soon as possible. Nancy would like two representatives from each group, and no one representing more than one group.

More about Homecoming. This year a new record was set in button sales. Bob Brebec and Dick Ojakangas, with the help of their salesmen, sold 879 buttons.

Organizations which would like financial help from the Student Council for any functions should present their case to the Council three weeks in advance, it was decided.

And in closing, it will soon be possible to buy UMD pennants from the bookstore. A design for these first pennants representing our school is being worked on by Dennis LaRoque.

ROTC H.Q. Move Slated

By DALE OLSEN

Hut - two - three - four. These sounds, familiar to our corps of ROTC cadets, will soon be resounding from a new domain.

Winter Quarter is the target date when Tweed Annex will be relieved of its military duties. T. A.'s successor, neighboring the new Phy. Ed. Building, is slated to begin operations on or about January 1.

The 100' x 46' temporary type steel structure is designed to house all of the facilities of the UMD AFROTC detachment. Space is being provided for a 27' x 38' classroom, administrative offices, supply functions, a library reading room, cadet staff offices and a cadet lounge. The building's heating requirements will be furnished by the UMD athletic plant's heating system.

Presently the detachment supply section occupies portions of Tweed and Olcott Halls. In the new building supply will be centrally located, thus providing much more adequately for its functions of storage and issue.

Drill sessions are already being conducted on the new campus. Sessions are held outdoors on the football practice field, when the weather permits. During periods of inclement weather the Corps moves into the spacious new gymnasium, where ample marching space is available.

According to Major Donald F. Rhodes, commandant of cadets and director of plans and training, the new facility will greatly expedite the accomplishment of the ROTC mission as well as providing accessibility and convenience for both students and staff.

Holiday: Hopes and Variations

By PHYLLIS HIETALA

The coming of November 11, Armistice Day, next week, brings to mind the thought of holidays and what they mean to students as a whole.

First of all, it is a day off from the weary toil of studies. Or is it? Many students see a holiday as a time when they can catch up on their studying and really absorb some knowledge. Of course, they seldom do, but their intentions are good, anyway.

Then there are students who completely relax on holidays, and do the things they have been wanting to do for so long. A visit home, various types of recreation, or simply catching up on lost sleep, are some forms of relaxation (under various kinds of recreation, there come into view students' opinions as to what is the best form of recreation, be it a concert, a movie, or a trip to Joe's Booze Hall).

More often than not, the occasion which the holiday has come about rarely enters the minds of the average student. How often does he say to himself: "Today is Armistice Day. This is the day which commemorates the end of World War I. Such a day I shall always remember as the climax of a great struggle for peace in the world."

He doesn't say it, does he? Perhaps we should stop and think more often of the reason behind a holiday, but in some cases, as in this, the holiday has lost much of its meaning because of the recurrences of war and armistices in the world.

With the oncoming of Thanksgiving and Christmas, most students agree that the feeling is somewhat different, and our moods tend to be more serious, although the general truth will always remain that holidays are days of rest, days in which we can do what we like, to suit no one, other than our selfish days.

Campus Yarns by Will Sweney

What more can be said about our cafeteria? Student opinion has been strongly expressed, and now is the period of waiting. How could we possibly make it any more positive—just notice the morgue-like atmosphere in the cafeteria at suppertime; try to force your way into Tony's at mealtime; and recall the very warm letters from students that have been printed in the STATESMAN. It would be silly to press the point any further at this point, for we have been promised action. The defense rests until further evidence is introduced.

Think I have discovered the cheapest school in the state, Bemidji State Teachers' college. A friend of mine that attends that school, says that he pays a total of $50 per month for BOTH board and room. Wish that we could get by as cheaply, but then I realize that we get much more for our money. One thing that makes me envy them, though, is the fact that they also get extra helpings of potatoes and all of the buns and butter that they can eat.

Few people realize how much damage this unpleasant situation could do to UMD's future. We could lose everything that we have gained (plenty of blood, sweat and tears were spent to get them, too) since we have begun building ourselves into a first-class school. This could be a juicy tidbit for those people that are opposed to our growth, and a lot more than our shrunken bellies and wallets are at stake here. This here's a game for mighty big stakes, men... so let's think twice before we draw two cards to an inside straight.

Hear the Soc-Hop went off well, at least I haven't heard anything to the contrary. Hope the Engineers' Ball (the same dance as the Marriage Ball of previous years) does as well.

Wonder if the World Affairs Conference has finally admitted that the United Nations are not united? At least this seemed to be implied by the fact that the Russian flag was noticeably absent from the flags display at the World Affairs Conference convo. I personally have nothing but opposition for the Reds, but after all, if we are going to pretend that we consider them as equal members in the United Nations, we should at least make this hypocrisy less transparent. A Russian college in a similar situation would probably leave out our flag, but it is my opinion that this gesture shows pettiness rather than patriotism and was in poor taste.

P. S. Dear Mr. McCarthy, I am not, have never been, and shall never be affiliated or associated in any way with the Communist party, in sympathy or otherwise.

Another thing, a question, emerges from that convo. Should we students allow adult exhibitionists to waste our time by asking irrelevant, ridiculous and long-winded questions of the personages we pay a lot of moola to, to talk to us? I hate to think so and hope the question never has to be considered again.

We hadn't planned to jump the gun on deer hunting season, but sometimes there doesn't seem to be any choice. While driving between Virginia and International Falls last Friday, a deer that was invisible in the heavy snowstorm dashed out in front of our car. Made a big dent, too. But to top it all off, we couldn't even find it afterwards. Wonder who was more surprised, the deer or us? Hope the deer didn't get hurt because I plan to look it up when season begins officially.

By TED POLLARD
Organ music recently ushered in one of the most interesting convocations UMD has had in a long time. "The World Affairs Council" drew a large audience and held its interest with first hand information on world politics today.

Former French Premier Camille Chautemps gave his views on the North Atlantic pact, the French situation in Indo-China and his country's fears of German re-armament. He mentioned the tendency to oversimplify the European problem and stressed the acute shortage of man power and products.

The German representatives of the council, Peter Von Zahn, agreed on such ideas as a United Europe, the North Atlantic Pact and the large amount of good that has been accomplished by American Aid. He was very strongly in favor of the re-arming of his country for the defense against communism. The strongest fear of his country Von Zahn said is that it will be deserted by the United States and be forced to accept communism because they cannot defend themselves against it.

Melchior Aquino the Philippine member of the panel was in favor of re-armament with international control and the last member of the panel, Dr. Elgin Groseclose, was more concerned with building moral fiber than weapon stores.

Aquino and Groseclose disagreed on the value of faith versus the need for strength and Dr. Groseclose disapproved of the way the United States handled visitors from other countries.

Students were impressed by the praise that the panelists gave the overseas policies of the United States. They showed disagreement, however, in their beliefs in the outcome of the Korean problem.

Some felt that a failure of conference and resumption of hostilities would mean total world war. Others believe in letting the truce drag on, the stalemate being preferable to fighting. No general solution was offered, but different viewpoints were well aired.

Students and other members of the audience participated in the question-answer period that followed the panel. I was impressed by the active student participation and interest in world affairs. This convo showed great progress over past affairs in attendance and interest, but there were still at least one hundred seats that could have, and should have been filled by students.

U M D NEWS BRIEFS

In a meeting of the sophomore class Tuesday, Nov. 3, Jerry Nelson, Pine City, was elected to the vice president post and Barbara Liable, Duluth, secretary-treasurer. Ralph Miller, president, presided.

There will be a meeting of the junior class, Thursday, Nov. 12, at 11 a.m. in the auditorium. Preliminary prom plans are on the agenda, Grant Miller, junior class president, announced.

There will be a Barkers meeting Tuesday, Nov. 10, at 7 p.m. in Room 109. Movies of football games will be shown, according to Peggy Woods.

The Student Council and "M" Club remind that all students abide by the following rule—do not wear letter sweaters from other schools, high school or college; only the "M" awarded by UMD should be worn on the campus.

Bolstered by the return of three veteran shooters, the ROTC rifle team is holding its initial practice sessions at the National Guard Armory.

Forming the nucleus of the new squad will be team captain Fred Olsen and regulars Dick Ojakangas and Rudy Hable.

Other candidates for the team include Herbert Daul, William Anderson, Glenn Fox, Louis Mattson, Robert Riley, Robert Pike, John Uordale, David Arneson and Edward Wang.

Technical Sgt. Warren Koons explained that the match practice of comparing the match scores by mail enables UMD to compete with schools throughout the country.

The feature is illustrated by UMD's first match against the North Dakota Agricultural college and the Connecticut University teams on December 12 with none of the entered schools leaving their campus to compete.

Hopes were held by the squad that they would be able to use the rifle range at the ROTC's new home in the Health and Physical Education building before the close of the year.

Here We Go Again

Winter Quarter Registration Set

Winter quarter registration is getting under way with the first phase having already taken place. Permits have been placed in students P.O. boxes during the week.

These permits are to be filled out and turned in to OSPS by Tuesday, Nov. 10. They will be checked and replaced in the P.O. boxes on Friday, Nov. 13. Students will be allowed to register according to their class.

The registration schedule will be as follows:

Nov. 16-20—Advisement period. Appointment for such conferences should be made prior to Nov. 16.

Monday, Nov. 23, 8:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. — Seniors may register. 1 p.m.-4:30 p.m. — Junior registration.

Tuesday, Nov. 24, all day — Sophomores and some freshmen may register.

Wednesday, Nov. 25, 8:30-12:30 — Balance of freshmen registration. 1 - 4:30 p.m., those not having filled out permit card on time may register. Dec. 31—Registration for all new students. Last day for payment of fees without penalty.

Class cards will be available in the gym; they will be tallied, fee statements will be issued and audited in the auditorium.

"The changes in the fall and winter registration programs have been the result of experience and suggestions made, and it is hoped by the OSPS that faculty and students who have further suggestions will contact Dr. Wood, Mr. Falk or Mr. Archerd concerning such suggestions," announced Mr. Falk, OSPS. "It is our desire to have the most effective registration program possible with the staff and facilities available.

UMD Guest Lecturer Named to Hall of Fame

A guest lecturer on the 1952 UMD summer session faculty, Roland S. Vaile, veteran professor of economics in the University of Minnesota School of Business Administration was recently named to the newly established "Hall of Fame in Distribution." Author of numerous books in the field of marketing and former editor of the "Journal of Marketing" was among distinguished leaders in the field of distribution honored at the 25th annual Boston conference on distribution, held in October in Boston, Mass.

Mr. Vaile taught two courses during the first 1952 UMD summer term. He taught in the UMD department of business and economics, division of social studies, headed by Dr. Richard O. Sielaff, associate professor of business and economics and division chairman.

Chronicle sales began last week and will continue until Nov. 20. It will not be possible for students to get a year book in the spring unless they are ordered now, according to Bob Brabec, Chronicle business manager.

Student salesmen are taking orders as well as the booth on 1st floor Main. The price is $2, a down payment of $1 now and $1 in the spring, or $2 now will reserve you a copy.

Punchinello Puppets To Appear at Convo

Tuesday, Nov. 10, is convocation day again at UMD. The Punchinello Puppets will appear through the sponsorship of the Lecture and Convocation department at 11 a.m. in Main auditorium.

These entertainers will demonstrate their skill in the ancient art of marionette performance with that old favorite, "Jack and the Beanstalk." You will see Jack's heroic rescue of the hen that lays the golden eggs and the beanstalk that grows before your very eyes.

All of these things should contribute toward making this a play that is full of humor, fantasy and suspense.

Dr. Hanson Returns From Convention

Dr. Howard Hanson, head of the UMD physics department, has recently returned from Washington, D.C., where he presented a paper on "The Quenching of Sodium Iodide Fluorescence in Different Gases" at a Pentagon Building meeting of the Office of Ordinance Research, U. S. Army.

The meeting was slated in conjunction with the Sixth Annual Gaseous-Electronics Conference. This three-day meeting held Oct. 22-24 at the Shoreman Hotel, Washington, attracted research physicists from all over the United States.

"It is encouraging to note," stated Dr. Hanson, "the wide variety of experiments carried on at institutions which compare in size with UMD. He explained that meetings of this type were very valuable to anybody engaged in research.

The next meeting of the Gaseous-Electronics Conference is planned to be held at the Brookhaven Laboratories, home of a three billion volt Bevatron, the largest atom smasher in the world.

There are still some "UMD Trailways" available to freshmen on presentation of their activity card at Room 109 Washburn. This handbook was prepared by the OSPS to serve as a guide and reference for new students during these first weeks.

Alan Copperud Receives Armistead Grady Award

Alan Bruce Copperud, a Virginia, Minn., student majoring in physical education and minoring in history at UMD, has received the 1953-54 Armistead Grady scholarship from the Duluth Kiwanis club.

The award was announced by Walter C. Warner, club president.

The UMD student was selected by the clubs' board of directors upon evaluation of applications for the scholarship and upon recommendation of the UMD director of student personnel services, Dr. Chester W. Wood.

The Kiwanis scholarship fund was established in 1951 in memory of the late Armistead Grady, who for more than three decades served as secretary of the Duluth club.

Selection is based upon four criteria — academic ability, vocational promise, character and leadership and need.

Halloween Dance Termed Successful

Masks, hats, and stocking feet was the order of the evening at the Halloween "Soc-Hop" held in the Main gym after the Augsburg game.

The dance, sponsored jointly by the Inter-Fraternity-Sorority Council and the Student Council, was well attended by UMD students, who danced from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. to the music of the Blue Notes. A new experiment at UMD, the "Soc-Hop" can be termed a successful event well worth repeating in future years.

Bernie Dinner was chairman of the event.

Sports On Parade

by Arne Moilanen

The Bulldogs' 14-6 victory over Augsburg, coupled with Hamline's win over St. Thomas, boosted the Maroon and Gold into undisputed possession of sixth place with a 2-3 conference slate. Behind the Bulldogs in the standings are St. Thomas, Augsburg and St. Mary's.

A victory over the Redmen would give UMD an even-Stephen loop record of 3 wins and 3 losses, but the only way in which our standing can be bettered is if either Hamline or Concordia lose. The Pipers meet St. John's in this week's big game with the Johnnies gunning for a tie with Gustavus for first place. In the other game, Concordia meets Augsburg.

If UMD wins and both Hamline and Concordia lose, we would finish in a three-way deadlock for fourth place; if either lose, we'll wind up in a two-way deadlock for fifth; but if both win, we'll remain in sixth. A loss, on the other hand, would drop UMD into a tie for sixth with St. Thomas.

Fullback Wally Aunan's performance against the Auggies was spectacular considering the fact that the Two Harbors athlete had missed several games because of injuries. Aunan piled up 88 yards in 17 tries, most of the yardage coming in the first half. Aunan's off-tackle slants sparked the Bulldogs to their first score, and also in the 70-yard march which fell short of paydirt when the Bulldogs fumbled.

Plans are being made for a University Ski club to encompass all students interested in skiing. This club would provide (1) ski club parties and social gatherings; (2) reduced rates for large group skiing at various resorts; and (3) ski instruction to beginners at little or no cost.

Here is a club that is worthwhile, but it needs student support before it can be a success. As of yet, there is no one to carry the ball, so to speak, nor is there an adviser. Our suggestion is that interested students get together and start the ball rolling.

In the past, the UMD football players have chosen an MIAC All-Opponent team, and this year should be no exception. We'll be contacting the football players next week to get their opinions and then print the All-Opponent squad in next week's STATESMAN.

Gridders Seek Third Victory Against Redmen Tomorrow Night

Coach Lloyd Peterson's charges will seek their third loop win tomorrow night when they clash with the hapless Redmen from St. Mary's at Winona. A win would give the Bulldogs a respectable 3-3 conference record and ice possession of sixth place.

The Redmen have lost all their six starts this season, including five MIAC tilts and a non-conference fray against Winona State Teachers. Common foes for both clubs have been St. John's, Concordia, Macalester and Augsburg. The Auggies, whom UMD defeated, 14-6, solidly trounced the Redmen two weeks ago.

St. Mary's will field a relatively light team, the line averaging 186 pounds and the backfield 170. The Redmen have not shown too much offensive spark in MIAC games to date, but could be dangerous on any given night.

Eleven lettermen grace the St. Mary's roster, including Co-captains Nick Josten, a guard, and John DeWitte, an end. Two freshmen, Bob Welch from Winona Cotter, a quarterback, and Tom Hennessey, Rochester, a tackle, have sparked the Redmen to date.

Peterson will probably field the same starting eleven that has started previous games. They are Dave Erholtz and Owen Beatty, ends; Krysiak and Tom Brascugli, tackles; DeRocher and Vince Mattel, guards; John Bymark, center; Cloutier, quarterback; Hussey and Warner, halfbacks, and Aunan or Peterson, fullback.

UMD Slabsters Schedule Training

Cross-country running at Chester Park will be the order of the day as candidates for the UMD ski team begin training for the 1953-54 slab season.

Six veterans, all of whom competed in the National Ski Meet at Ogden, Utah, last winter, have returned. The lettermen and their events are Gordy Slotness, four-events; Carl Schramm, slalom, downhill; Stuart Benson, slalom, downhill; Don Nygaard, cross-country, slalom; Duane Ramfjord, four-events; Jack Modahl, jumping; and Jack Wangenstein, four-events.

New candidates who have signed up include Paul Schmidt, Duluth; Jim Blackwell, Grand Marais; and Dennis Ojakangas, Grand Rapids.

Missing from last year's team are Paul Vesterstein, four-event veteran; Bill McLain, the Bulldogs' outstanding jumper last year; and Ed Poirer.

When the snows fall, the Maroon and Gold will practice at Chester Bowl, Rock Hill and Mont du Lac.

According to George Hovland and Ward Wells, this year's team is basically the same as last year's and should be as good, if not better.

Bulldogs Whip Auggies, 14-6 Gain Second Conference Win

By JIM COUGHLIN

The UMD Bulldogs capitalized on two fumbles to convert them into touchdowns and slip by Augsburg, 14-6, in wind-swept Public Schools stadium last Saturday before a shivering crowd estimated at 787.

The victory leaves the Bulldogs with a 2-3 conference record while the Auggies suffered their fourth loop loss. The game broke a seventh-place tie between the two teams.

Augsburg opened the scoring early in the initial period when co-captain Dick Stensrud blocked a punt with teammate Bob Kirchner recovering on the Bulldog 24. A few plays later quarterback Jerry Fullerton sneaked across. Halfback Merlin White's attempted conversion was blocked by John Bymark.

UMD got their first six-pointer moments later when a Bulldog lineman recovered a fumble on the Augsburg 24. Halfback Joe Hussey barreled into the end zone from the one-yard stripe. Wally Aunan's place-kick split the uprights, making the score 7-6.

In the final period, Mel Kanning recovered an Auggie bobble on the 27. The Bulldogs drove to the 1-yard line from where Capt. Rol Cloutier plunged over. Aunan again converted.

Although the second and third periods were scoreless, the Bulldogs drove all the way to the Auggie 1 where Aunan fumbled and Augsburg recovered. In the waning minutes of the first half, an Augsburg defender intercepted a pass and raced 40 yards to the UMD 5. The Bulldogs held, however.

Wally Aunan's quick thrusts off-tackle accounted for most of UMD's yardage, gaining 88 yards, most of them in the first half.

Isenbarger Names Varsity; Six Lettermen Included

Thirteen members will constitute the 1953-54 varsity basketball team as head coach Ray Isenbarger selected the regulars out of 41 candidates. Among the group are six lettermen from last year, one monogram winner from 1950-51 and 1951-52, three Iron Range junior college transfers and three freshmen.

The returning lettermen are

Capt. Chuck Hiti and Mark Vukelich, Gilbert; Mel Koivisto and Bob Seikkula, Esko; John McKeag, Dennison; and Ed Pajunen, Meadowlands. Bruce Paulson, Moose Lake, earned letters several years ago.

The Junior college transfers are Tom Richardson and John Ferkul, Gilbert; and Bob McDonald, Chisholm. Jerry Wilmot, Duluth; Dick Veech, Hermantown; and Tom Stark, Proctor, are the three frosh.

"The MIAC will be stronger this year than it has been at any other time. Hamline, Gustavus, St. Mary's, St. Thomas and our squad will all be fighting for the championship," predicted Coach Ray Isenbarger.

"Hamline has four outstanding freshmen; St. Mary's has leading scorer Pat Costello; St. Thomas has their two guards returning; and Gustavus has virtually the same team. We have a group of hard working boys with ability and spirit who will take a back seat to no one."

During scrimmage sessions staged during the week, the players have manned the following positions:

Forwards, Hiti, Seikkula, McDonald, Stark and Pajunen; centers, Vukelich, Paulson and McKeag; and guards, Richardson, Koivisto, Ferkul, Wilmot and Veech.

The freshman team will begin practice sessions Monday at 4:30 p.m. Five-day-a-week drills are slated for the varsity with the season's opener scheduled Dec. 1 at Eau Claire.

Unheralded Linemen Provide Punch

As this year's football season draws to a close it is only fitting that tribute is paid to the unsung heroes of the pigskin sport, the linemen. UMD's Bulldogs drew unexpected line power when this fall's initial practice session opened with such stellar performers as freshman Chuck Carter, Tom Brascugli and Vince Mattei, the latter two from the range.

CHUCK CARTER

Chuck Carter, a product of Duluth Central, served two years in the Marine Corps before coming to UMD. While attending Central, Chuck was one of the outstanding linemen in the city winning all-city prep honors at guard.

A close buddy of end Owen Beatty, Chuck has done a splendid job filling in for the injured Vince Mattei although this is only his first year of college ball. Now that Mattei is well again Chuck's pre-season experience makes the left guard spot one of the strongest on the Bulldog forward wall.

TOM BARSCUGLI

A transfer from Eveleth Junior College, Tom earned All-Conference rating two seasons at JC. Winning laurels is nothing new with Tom, while attending Eveleth high school, his outstanding play earned him the right to be voted All-Range honors his junior and senior years.

Called "Brass" by his fellow teammates, Tom's experience power and mobility adds needed strength to the Bulldog line. Majoring in science and minoring in social studies, Tom is preparing for a career in teaching.

VINCE MATTEI

Vince Mattei also hails from the range. He graduated from Eveleth high school in '50 where he captained the football squad. Before coming to UMD he played at Eveleth JC and earned All-

Conference honors at guard in '51 and '52.

When the Bulldogs opened the season at Superior he was installed as a starting guard, but during the game he received an injury that kept him out of action until the homecoming game with St. Thomas.

Vince is a junior majoring in intermediate education and minoring in physical education and plans to teach after graduation. During the summer he worked in the open pit mine at Hibbing.
